

Every give is unconditional and names one plain thing; the courier sells carriage, not toothbrushes. The conjunction lives in the traveller's one want, so all-or-nothing is free.

The traveller pays once: the money give is divisible and clearing splits it at the per-leg prices. Not a cycle: a balanced flow with a hub. Every node nets to zero on its own scale.