

Shipping moves a thing in place, storage in time, an exchange moves value across currencies: each is an ordinary maker whose give and want differ in one dimension. The buyer pays in euros, the factory is paid in USDC, and the intermediaries are paid the same way (payment legs not drawn). The solver composes the chain; settlement commits every leg or none.